DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 23-63 are allowed. Claims 23-63 are re-numbered as claims 1-41.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The closest prior art of record discloses a system for secure transaction management and electronic rights protection by utilizing a Virtual Distribution Environment (VDE) to communicate data to subscribers and to ensure that the communication is safe by generating a session key to protect data from obtained illegally. However, the closest prior art of record either individually or in combination does not explicitly disclose a data reproduction unit comprises a session key generation unit generating a session key updated at every access to obtain said content key with respect to a data storage unit; a first encryption processing unit encrypting said session key using a public encryption key that can be decrypted at said data storage unit and that is unique to said data storage unit, and providing said encrypted session key to said data storage unit in light of other features disclosed in independent claims 23, 28, 34, 45, and 53 in generating doubly encrypted content key to for decryption of encrypted content data in a data reproduction system.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments, see Remarks, filed , with respect to 8/10/06 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claims 23-63 has been withdrawn.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Ishibashi et al. U.S. Pat. No. 6728379 discloses decrypting encrypted content key and then re-encrypt content key with a session key.
